

IN THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT FOR THE NORTHERN DISTRICT OF OKLAHOMA

STATE OF OKLAHOMA, ex rel, W.A. DREW
EDMONDSON, in his capacity as ATTORNEY
GENERAL OF THE STATE OF OKLAHOMA, et al.,

Plaintiff,

v.

Case No. 4:05-CV-329-JOE-SAJ

TYSON FOODS, INC., et al.,

Defendants.

DEFENDANT TYSON POULTRY, INC.’S RESPONSE IN OPPOSITION TO STATE OF OKLAHOMA’S MOTION FOR LEAVE TO FILE A SUPPLEMENTAL BRIEF IN OPPOSITION TO “TYSON POULTRY, INC.’S MOTION TO DISMISS COUNT 3 OF PLAINTIFF’S FIRST AMENDED COMPLAINT”

COMES NOW Defendant Tyson Poultry, Inc. (“Tyson Poultry”), joined by Tyson Foods, Inc., Tyson Chicken, Inc., and Cobb-Vantress, Inc. (collectively, the “Tyson Defendants”), by and through its attorneys, and submits the following response in opposition to the State of Oklahoma’s Motion for Leave to File a Supplemental Brief in Opposition to “Tyson Poultry, Inc.’s Motion to Dismiss Count 3 of Plaintiff’s First Amended Complaint” (“Motion for Leave”) (Docket No. 161). The Tyson Defendants respectfully request that this Court deny Plaintiff’s Motion for Leave because it is without merit and because supplemental briefing will not assist this Court in understanding or resolving the issues presented by Tyson Poultry’s Motion to Dismiss. However, should this Court grant Plaintiff leave to file its proposed “Supplemental Brief,” the Tyson Defendants respectfully request that this Court likewise grant them leave to file a final brief addressing new matters, inconsistencies, and/or erroneous statements contained in Plaintiff’s “Supplemental Brief.”

ARGUMENTS AND AUTHORITIES

A. This Court Should Deny Plaintiff's Motion for Leave Because Plaintiff's Proposed "Supplemental Brief" Will Not Assist This Court in Understanding or Resolving the Issues Before It.

The Federal Rules of Civil Procedure (the "Federal Rules") do not contemplate an open-ended briefing schedule whereby a party is afforded multiple opportunities to refine and reformulate arguments made in support of its position. In motion practice, district courts generally consider a matter to be fully briefed after the filing of a motion, response, and reply. See, e.g., LCvR7.1(h). The Northern District adheres to these standard limitations by discouraging supplemental briefs and allowing parties to file supplemental materials only upon motion and leave of Court. See id. According to Plaintiff, the "fundamental issue" presented by a party's motion for leave to file an additional brief is "whether the supplemental brief assists the Court in understanding and resolving the issues before it." See State of Oklahoma's Reply Brief in Support of its Motion for Leave to File a Supplemental Brief in Opposition to Peterson Farms, Inc.'s Motion to Dismiss and Alternative Motion to Stay the Proceedings (Docket No. 171) at 3. Assuming the correctness of this standard, Plaintiff's Motion for Leave should be denied.

Upon the filing of Tyson Poultry, Inc.'s Reply in Support of its Motion to Dismiss Count 3 of Plaintiff's First Amended Complaint ("Tyson Poultry's Reply") (Docket No. 145), the issues presented by Tyson Poultry's Motion to Dismiss were fully briefed by the Parties, and the matter became ripe for ruling by this Court. See LCvR7.1(h). Nonetheless, Plaintiff now requests permission to file a "Supplemental Brief" under the guise of seeking to "clarify and correct the record" as to certain of Tyson Poultry's "legal contentions." Plaintiff's Motion for Leave at 1 (Docket No. 161). This Court should deny Plaintiff's Motion for Leave because it does not "clarify" or "correct" anything in the record and is, in fact, nothing more than Plaintiff's attempt to have “the final word” by rehashing or restating the arguments contained in Plaintiff’s Response to Tyson Poultry’s Motion to Dismiss.

Tyson Poultry’s Reply brief complied with this Court’s Local Rules by addressing only new matters contained in Plaintiff’s Response to Tyson Poultry’s Motion to Dismiss. See LCvR7.1(h). Therefore, Plaintiff’s only argument in support of its Motion for Leave is its general disagreement with certain “legal contentions” made by Tyson Poultry in support of Tyson Poultry propositions that: (1) Plaintiff failed to satisfy the mandatory pre-litigation notice requirements for filing a citizen suit under the Resource Conservation and Recovery Act (“RCRA”), 42 U.S.C. § 6901 et seq., because: (a) Plaintiff failed to provide notice to the appropriate regulatory agency in Arkansas; and (b) Plaintiff’s notice was legally insufficient; and (2) Plaintiff is not a proper party to bring a RCRA citizen suit because the State of Oklahoma has delegated authority to administratively enforce the federal RCRA program for regulating solid and hazardous waste. See Tyson Poultry’s Motion to Dismiss and Reply (Docket Nos. 64 and 145, respectively).

Under the pretext of attempting to assist this Court with its deliberations, Plaintiff’s proposed “Supplemental Brief” contains Plaintiff’s “legal contentions” regarding: (1) the merits of Tyson Poultry’s arguments for dismissal; and (2) the relevance and reasoning of authorities cited in Tyson Poultry’s briefs. Plaintiff’s proposed “Supplemental Brief” simply restates the arguments contained in Plaintiff’s Response and adds nothing of substance to the briefs now before the Court. Therefore, this Court should deny Plaintiff’s Motion for Leave because Plaintiff’s “Supplemental Brief” will not assist this Court in understanding or resolving the issues now before it, and because it is for this Court – not Plaintiff – to decide the merits of Tyson Poultry's arguments for dismissal and to assess the relevance and reasoning of authorities cited in Tyson Poultry's briefs.

B. A Movant Should be Allowed to Make the Final Argument in Motion Briefing Because the Movant Bears the Burden of Persuasion in Such Matters.

Though not specifically articulated in the Federal Rules, a fundamental working tenet of the federal judicial system is that the party bearing the burden of persuasion on a particular matter is afforded an opportunity to present a final argument before the Court or a jury begins its deliberations. For example, with respect to motion practice, the Local Rules of the Northern District contemplate that a matter will be ready for decision after the movant makes its final arguments by filing its reply brief. See LCvR7.1(h). Tyson Poultry submits that the issues raised by its Motion to Dismiss have been fully briefed and developed by the Parties and that the matter is ripe for decision without Plaintiff's proposed "Supplemental Brief."<sup>1</sup> See id. However, if this Court were to grant Plaintiff leave to file its proposed "Supplemental Brief," Tyson Poultry respectfully requests that this Court provide it with an opportunity to make a final argument in support of its Motion to Dismiss by likewise granting Tyson Poultry leave to file a final, responsive supplemental brief.

C. The Reality of "Meet and Confer" Discussions Between Counsel Relating to Plaintiff's Request For Supplemental Briefing.

Plaintiff states that it contacted counsel for Tyson Poultry and that Tyson Poultry objected to the Plaintiff's Motion for Leave. In reality, Mr. David Riggs, counsel for Plaintiff, <sup>1</sup> As set forth in a separate filing, while Tyson Poultry welcomes the opportunity to present oral argument on its Motion to Dismiss: (1) there should be no oral argument on any matters pending before the Court prior to resolution of the Defendants' Motion to Stay Proceedings (Docket No. 125) in light of the case now pending before the United States Supreme Court styled State of Arkansas v. State of Oklahoma; and (2) in the interest of judicial economy, there may be no need for oral argument as the issues have been fully developed by the Parties' respective briefs. See Defendants' Response to the State of Oklahoma's Request for Oral Argument on Defendants' Motions to Dismiss (Docket No. 175).

contacted Stephen L. Jantzen to inquire as to whether the Tyson Defendants would oppose any effort by Plaintiff to file a surreply or other supplemental briefing relating to Tyson Poultry's Motion to Dismiss Count 3 of Plaintiff's First Amended Complaint (Docket No. 64). In response, Mr. Riggs was informed Plaintiff could represent to the Court that Tyson Poultry does not object to such an attempt so long as Tyson Poultry was granted an opportunity to file a subsequent, responsive brief.

CONCLUSION

For the reasons stated herein, the Tyson Defendants respectfully request this Court to enter an order:

- (1) denying the Plaintiff's Motion for Leave; or
- (2) alternatively, granting Tyson Poultry leave to file a final, responsive brief to Plaintiff's "Supplemental Brief" in the event Plaintiff's Motion for Leave is granted; and
- (3) granting the Tyson Defendants such other and further relief as the Court deems just and proper under the circumstances.

Respectfully submitted,
